GASTRO AND LIVER DISEASE IN EUROPE
WHERE ARE YOU MOST AND LEAST AT RISK?

Based on a detailed assessment of digestive health across 28 EU member states, Norway, Switzerland, Liechtenstein and Russia.

Highest incidence of alcohol related liver disease in Scandinavia

Lowest incidence of dyspepsia (<5%) in Denmark, Finland and Switzerland

Lowest incidence of dysentery in parts of Eastern and Southern Europe

Lowest incidence of Crohn’s disease and ulcerative colitis in Poland and Romania

Lowest incidence of peptic ulcer mortality in Cyprus, Spain and Italy

Mortality from chronic liver disease lowest in the Netherlands, Liechtenstein and Norway

Peptic ulcer mortality lowest in Cyprus, Spain and Italy

Highest hospital admissions for alcoholic liver disease

Mortality from chronic liver disease lowest in the Netherlands, Liechtenstein and Norway