CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

Thank you for your interest in submitting an abstract for UEG Week Virtual 2021!

Abstract submissions for UEG Week have been increasing over recent years in both number and quality, and UEG Week has become a premier world meeting offering a platform to present clinical and basic gastro-intestinal and liver research.

UEG is proud to have introduced a variety of innovations over the past years, please find more information below.

- Best Abstract Prizes identify and nurture promising science. Among all abstracts accepted for presentation at UEG Week Virtual, the three highest scoring abstracts per main abstract topic are chosen. Recognition will be given to the presenting author who will receive free registration to the meeting. Selected abstracts will be highlighted as Best Abstracts.
- The E-Posters give every poster presenter the opportunity to publish the poster electronically. E-Posters are accessible in the virtual poster exhibition for the duration of the whole congress and also afterwards. As soon as the virtual congress platform goes offline, they will be published on the UEG website at <https://www.ueg.eu/>. E-posters allow all poster presenters to include a pre-recorded 5min presentation.
- Moderated Poster sessions offer poster presenters additional exposure of their scientific work. Participation requires the e-poster being uploaded and recording your presentation with our technical team prior to UEG Week. The posters are selected by the UEG Scientific Committee based on scientific quality and suitability for the topic of the sessions. Selected posters will be highlighted as Posters of Excellence.
- Today's Science; Tomorrow's Medicine is a symposium featuring the world's top experts describing the latest research on a specific topic. This year's topic is 'Immunity and GI disorders'. Please note that basic and early translational abstract submissions concerning this topic should be submitted in the same format as other abstracts, but you need to tick the box at the very end of the submission.
