

Young Co-Chairs at UEG Week

Information for candidates – Criteria for application

(updated February 2026)

UEG invites enthusiastic emerging specialists to express their interest in acting as a Young Co-Chair at UEG Week.

1. Basic criteria

Only candidates who fulfil the minimum criteria will be considered:

- be a UEG Young Associate
- all digestive health specialists (incl. surgeons, paediatricians, radiologists, pathologists, ...) with an MD or basic/clinical scientists at pre- / post-PD/PhD level are considered
- must be fluent in English

2. Application

- Application form: information about yourself, most important publications, and your area of expertise
- Curriculum vitae: max. 1 A4 page, incl. short summary of your medical/scientific education, previous relevant experience (e.g. invited talks, volunteer work, editorial work, review work), previous relevant participation in UEG-related activities, summary of publication records)

3. Selection

Your application will be reviewed by the UEG Young Talent Group and – if suitable – sent to the Scientific Committee for consideration for assignment to sessions at UEG Week. The final selection of Young Co-Chairs is at the Scientific Committee's discretion, so given the competitive nature of chairing slots at UEG Week, not all approved applicants will be assigned to the task.
